Panoramic beauty creatable
only by mother nature.
Breathtaking views on top of times' pinnacles.
Valleys and gorges cut by swift streams.
Rolling hills, manicured by the arduous work of farmers.
Old farmhouses tilting to one side, as if motioning it's time to lie and rest.
Old cars, abandoned in a field, looking like the aftermath of a battle.
Trees changing color as the air becomes crisp, warning us of old man winters' awakening again.
The mountains become white saw-like teeth, pointing to the heavens, which on clear nights tell us only of the cold.
The saw-like teeth are covered with life, rushing from top to bottom in fits of enjoyment.
Soon the descents end with springs' fresh breath of new life.
An odor all of its own, as flowers, shrubs and trees
stretch and yawn new beauty
for the coming year.
And as the flowers prepare its seed for dispersal into the wild, so does a small liberal arts college, the class of 1988.

Knightlife

Located in Winooski Vermont, Saint Michael's was founded in 1903 by the Society of Saint Edmund. It started originally as a one building, 30-student men's high school and college.

In 1931 as the college began to grow, the high school was discontinued. By the end of World War II, enrollment had climbed significantly.

During the 60's, the campus existed in two parts with half the campus located at Fort Ethan Allen, and the rest just south of the Fort, now known as the main campus.

In 1970, Saint Michael's admitted its first female students. By 1980, the enrollment between men and women were about equal.

In 1987, the Campaign for Excellence well under way, the school began to consolidate the two campuses. Now, most classes are located on the main campus with the opening of the new academic building, St. Edmunds Hall.

Soon, new housing will complete the unification of the two campuses, and it is likely that the school will sell its North campus properties. Future plans for the school include a new International Student Center, a new fieldhouse (which may include a skating rink and raquetball courts) and possibly improvements to the library.

Knightlife

The people of Saint Michael's come primarily from New England, New York and New Jersey. Although we don't have an equal representation of all the states, there are people attending from all over the world. To some, our climate is a bit harsh. To others, just like home. In either case, Saint Michael's is home away from home.

The variety of friendly smiles has made Saint Michael's the friendly place it is today. People are seen smiling for our cameras all the time. Why? It's the caring attitude which permeates our humble little society with love and friendship. This attitude has drawn many to the school. It is unfortunate that many will never experience the Knightlife which is becoming legendary.

Knightlife

Trips to North Beach to bask in the sun and swim in Lake Champlain as weather permits. Picnics are also a favorite at North Beach as well as frisbee football games and hacky-sac.

Hiking in the fall can be very spectacular. The colors are incredible and sunsets breathtaking (as well as the hike itself in some cases).

After a long week of studying, a trip downtown is often in order. Stops at Irish Happy hour are a common pastime. The variety of bars in Burlington satisfy all and every desire. And if it couldn't, then a trip to Montreal can satisfy the fetish in everyone.

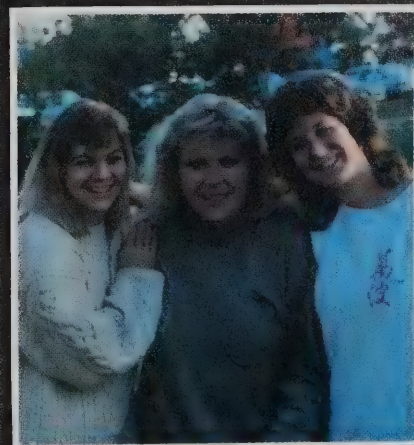

After a night downtown, there are always afterhours parties. The Townhouses offer just the place for such a social gathering. Over the years these parties have changed with the new alcohol policy. As freshmen we were able to find parties all the time. The frequency of the parties as well as the number of attenders has dropped since then.

Sitting outside the Estates, (the 300's) you can watch soccer or lacrosse games as a way of relaxing or passing the time when one is not in the best of conditions following certain nights of drunken glut.

As fall passes and winter sets in, many scramble to get their ski passes. On weekends the parking lots open up as many head for the slopes.

When spring finally arrives, frisbees, footballs, baseballs and hacky-sacs fill the air. Often the quad is a large sports arena for many to show off their talents.

Finally, after four years of Knight-life, those fortunate enough to have made it are endowed with a diploma certifying that we have attained an acceptable level of proficiency in any number of fields.

HALLOWEEN

. . . and soon after the cabbage night crew had bedded for the evening, it was Halloween again. As always, the spirits were out in force and Saint Michael's was not devoid of their hauntings. On this crisp October night, large gatherings of ghosts and goblins could be seen and heard gathering first in Hodson, then the Townhouses and then finally in a ghastly procession, the mob made its way through the gates of . . . . the North Campus Gym. Inside, all the traditional tidings were observed and all the goblins could be seen moving to the beat of the Trend. And as the morning drew near, the cold autumn wind carried away all traces of the previous nights activities. And so the campus would rest.

Orientation 1987

Like the farmers spring planting, a new generation was seeded unto Saint Michael's. The school saw its largest freshmen class ever with over 500 young and eager to learn. The transition into Knighthood was made smoothly with the friendly guidance and companionship of the 50 orientation leaders, over a three day period before the rest of the student body returned for another year. Making friends, some feeling homesick, some remembering sweethearts left behind, all were taking a step forward in the right direction. SMC-College like it oughta' be.

Dedication Of St. Edmunds

The new St. Edmunds Hall is the first building in the history of the United States to be named after the oldest medieval academic building at Oxford. The name honors St. Edmund, an Archbishop of Canterbury. The building was dedicated in October of nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, and it was blessed during Mass given by the Very Reverend Joseph M. McLaughlin, SSE '66', Edmundite Superior General and college board chairman.

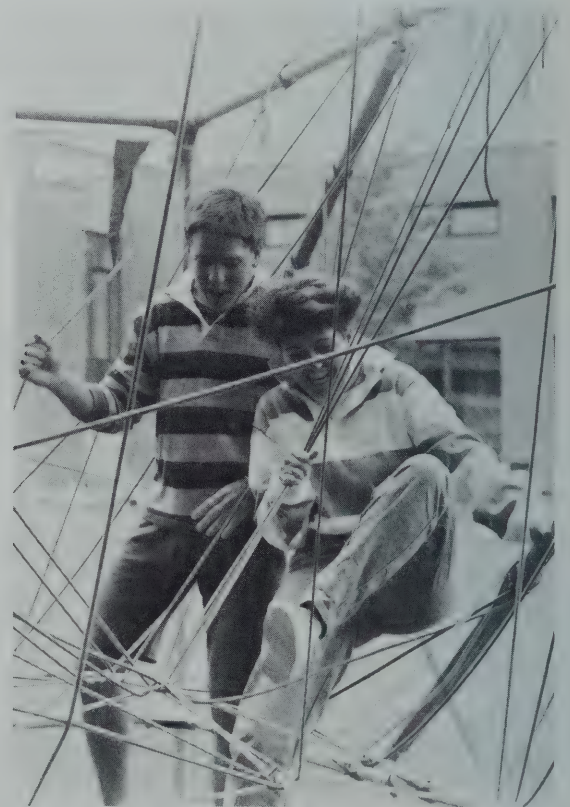

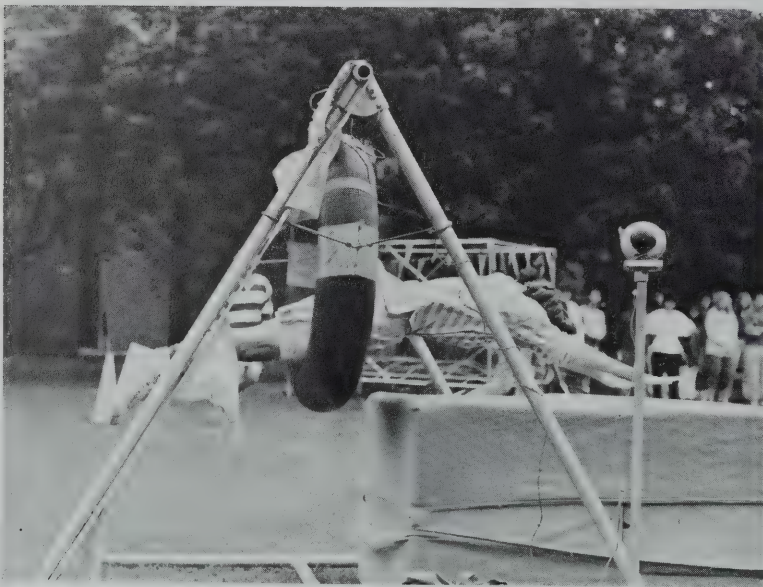

The building marks the first series of the campaign for excellence. This campaign hopes to improve and to further the development of academic interests at St. Michael's College.

Organizations

Organizations are a big part of Saint Michael's College. The many organizations have helped many people in many different situations throughout the local and regional community. The sense of caring, giving and commitment ring through all the organizations. All the organizations are volunteer and are made up of students, professors and administrators alike. With the common desire to carry out the mission of Saint Michael's, these dedicated folks give much of their time, spirit and love to help those less fortunate.

Not all the organizations direct their efforts to the outside community though, as some are meant to benefit the welfare of the students.

In any case, organizations will continue to provide many functions in the community as the men and women of Saint Michael's unite in brotherhood and love to show we care.

DEFENDER

Defender

Every Thursday there is a scurry of people in Alliot scanning the current issue of the Defender. The Defender is St. Michael's own student run newspaper. St. Michael's newspaper was first printed in 1930. It was formerly called the Michaelman but in 1980 the paper became known as the Defender. The paper is geared to St. Michael's students informing them of campus and area events.

This year staff consisting of twenty people was led by Scott Fletcher, Editor-in-Chief, and under the guide of advisor Jack Hillwig. This small staff was able to churn out 20 issues over a two semester period. The staff was became skilled in desk top publishing and typesetting. Never before had a staff been able to typeset their issues but the IBM pagemaker made this task possible. The editorial staff also attended an editorial convention at the University of Connecticut. This years staff was dedicated to improving the readership and the quality of the Defender.

WWPV

The Rock-n-Roll Authority is coming to you in stereo on 88.7 fm. To many fans, PV provides the Knightlife mood as well as public service messages. It was first on the air in August 15, 1973 and was formally know as WSSE.

The 1987-1988 college year for WWPV was led by the executive board-Dana Cole, Peter Leddy, Chris Capossela, Jesse Floyd, Dan Roke, and Michelle Brosnan. Behind the scenes was a membership of over 90 people. There were 42 air jocks, and approximately 50 substitute air jocks. PV is located on North Campus in Sloane Arts Center where the disks are spun. PV also sponsored concerts and dances.

BACCHUS

BACCHUS

Alcohol education is of paramount concern on SMC's campus especially with the change in the drinking age. There is one organization on campus devoted to the promotion of responsible drinking. This club is BACCHUS. The letters represent the philosophy behind this nationally acclaimed organization; BACCHUS stands for Boost Alcohol Consciousness Concerning the Health of University Students. The purpose of this club is not to discourage drinking but to encourage responsible drinking.

Over the past two years President Alison Belford, under the guidance of Prof. William Marquess, focused on providing non-alcoholic alternatives on campus and promoting educational information so that students could make educated decisions concerning the use of alcohol. In these two years, the club has grown and developed. One of the major accomplishments was the BACCHUS Fruit Bar where BACCHUS members turned into bartenders and served non-alcoholic daiquiris at most of the dances. Along with this activity, BACCHUS has sponsored many other events such as its 2nd annual Lake Champlain Ferry Ride, Willy Wonka and Monty Python film festivals, and a sleigh ride. During health fairs and Alcohol Awareness Week, students can browse through information provided at the BACCHUS table. This year, BACCHUS and Health Services worked together on an Alcohol Awareness four page publication in the Defender.

Fire and Rescue

Whether it be fires, car accidents, transportation of premature babies, or any number of other emergencies, SMC Fire and Rescue is one of the first squads to respond in the Chittenden County. Fire and Rescue is a dedicated group of student volunteers. Their services are funded through donations and fund-raisers. The organization was founded in 1969, and has since grown into a highly qualified and expert emergency team.

Fire and Rescue began as a rescue squad with minimal equipment; initially the squad worked out of a College security van. The squad is now equipped with an ambulance, and an 85-foot aerial ladder.

All members have been highly trained. The fire fighters have completed a twenty-five hour basic fireman course allowing for certification for interior firefighting certification, and they have weekly fire drills to practice the skills learned. All Rescue members have been certified in American Red Cross Advanced First Aid and in Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation. Many have also completed a 100-hour Emergency Medical Technician course at MCHV.

HILLTOP

HILLTOP

Welcome to the Knightlife! This is the theme that the 1988 Hilltop staff has chosen, a theme that captures the traditional and contemporary ideas of St. Michael's students.

A yearbook provides a lasting book of many memories made during the college year. This year's staff was a small, close-knit group of about 20 people with Brian Nelson as Editor-In-Chief and Jacki Murphy as the advisor. The staff has been working on this yearbook from early September, and the final pages will be completed in late May. The essence of the 1987-1988 Knightlife is captured in the yearbook's words, pictures, and artistic style.

Futures

The Futures is the "new" business club which was founded by four seniors in the 1985-1986 college year. Since then the club has multiplied its membership, and expanded its horizons through involvement in various activities. Members of the club included the president Lauren Luoma along with the officers, Doug Lessing, Tim LeBouthillier, Elisa Sartori, Andre Bissonnette, and Lisa Lalonde. William Anderson was this year's faculty advisor.

The club was designed to provide the opportunities for members to focus their career paths by exposure to a variety of fields, to learn about money management, and to serve the community with advertising services. Some of the club's activities included participating in the investment game under Merrill Lynch, attending lectures of guest speakers, and advertising for other clubs.

A.C.M. AND SCIENCE CLUB

ACM and SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club emerged by a joint effort between professors and students. It began as a class project in 1986 under the direction of Dr. Olgiati and Dr. Schroll. Cuross 'Baki' Bakhtiar and Todd Dubois were the students leaders initiating the revitalization of a science club. The club has enlarged and changed over the two year period. This year's club was supervised by two advisors, Dr. Scott and Dr. Bozzone and directed by Pat Cushing, president.

The club was created to deepen and promote interest in science. Science majors make up the majority of the membership but there are members who are just interested in science that also partake in the club. Every month, this club sponsors science-oriented lectures which are presented by local professionals. The club hopes to continue to grow and promote education in the sciences.

The Association for Computing Machinery brought students in the computer science field together. It was founded in 1984 and has since become affiliated with the Academic Computer Machinery, a nationwide organization.

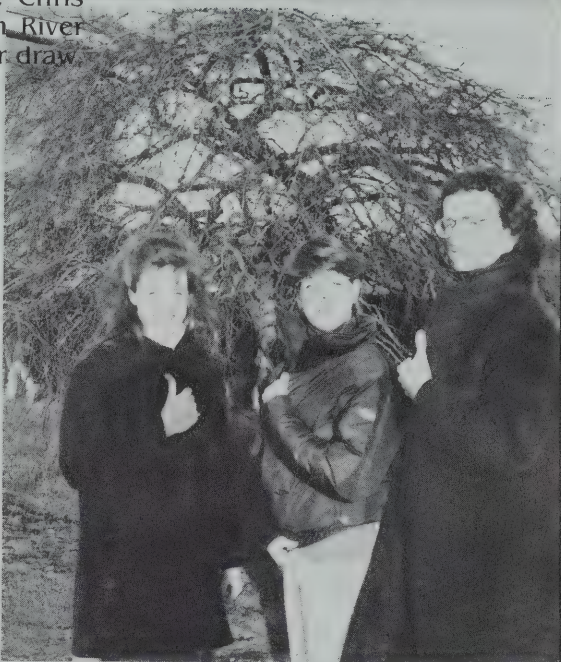

This organization promoted student interest in non-academic computer applications, and fostered interaction amongst those in the computer science concentration. This faculty advisor John Trono. Various club activities, field trips, and fund raising.

The "Onion River Review" is SMC's own literary magazine. It was founded in 1972, and has been published twice a year since then.

The magazine publishes student and faculty poetry, prose, artwork, and photography. William Marquess, faculty moderator, worked with Editor Marie Lane, Art Editor Kathy Sariego, and Editorial Board, Mary Williams, Chris Sariego, and Jeff Hay to continue this literary tradition. The "Onion River Review" has been a great incentive for students and faculty to write or draw and has given many talented people well deserved exposure.

"And on your left is Durick Library. It's the third largest library in the state of Vermont," said Alison, the tour guide.

For many prospective students, the first impression of SMC is from their tour guide. This service is only a part of what members of Student Admissions Association partake in. The group, commonly referred to as SAA, was officially founded in 1984. Before then students helped in the admissions process but were not part of a formalized group. This year Cynthia Dursi and Andrew McCann coordinated the 90 members of this year's SAA with the support of Deborah Bourgeois, the advisor.

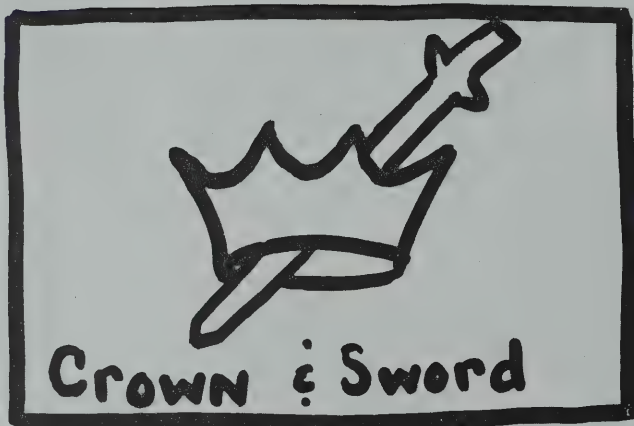

SAA members are incorporated into the admissions process. There are a variety of activities to become involved in. Daily guided tours of SMC, day visits, high school visits, prospective student phonathon, and letter writing are the main events of the association.

CROWN & SWORD

Student Health Advisory Committee, commonly known as SHAC, was organized in 1985. The committee has on an average of eight members. This year the committee consisted of a senior board. SHAC members provided input to the Health Service staff about the planning and programming of health related activities. SHAC also voiced the qualms of SMC's students so that the quality of health care may be continually upgraded. A key activity was the yearly mocktails at the Spring Health Fair.

Crown and Sword

St. Michael's College has never permitted fraternities or sororities on campus, but in the early fifties Crown and Sword depicted the closest facsimile to a fraternity in St. Michael's history. Members were "inducted" into Crown and Sword and they wore uniforms, a navy blue blazer with the logo on the pocket. Prospective members went through an interviewing process before becoming an official member. The club has since changed, and is more informal now. All students are welcome to join although full membership is not complete until after one semester.

Under the guidance of Rit DiVenere, Pat Cushing, Kimberly Smith, Cathy Kilmartin, and Susan Wagemaker led this volunteer group in its community efforts. Some of the more popular events which this volunteer group is involved in are "Rent-A-Prof," Haunted House, and the MS Dance Marathon. Crown and Sword is also involved in raising scholarships, sponsoring international brunches, and working with the Special Olympics and Arthritis Foundation. As it has in the past, Crown and Sword will continue to reach out and help the community.

MOVE

MOVE stands for Mobilization of Volunteer Efforts. This organization was developed to effectively tap and channel the interests and energies of the SMC students into positive community activities. The office of Julie Cronin, Founding Coordinator is in the basement of the chapel. It is there that she works with the leaders of the seven departments under her and with the club's advisor Fr. Mike Cronogue to increase the students involvement with local community services.

MOVE provides students with the opportunity to volunteer and get involved. There are many projects such as Food Shelf, Ronald McDonald House, Chittenden County Correction Center, and St. Joseph's Bingo which come under the MOVE umbrella. Although the organization was founded this year, it was probably the second largest organization on campus and the prospect of increasing support looks promising. Over the 1987-1988 college year, there were over 100 students actively involved in MOVE.

This organization calls upon people to give of themselves and in return, it allows them to become involved in local community activities. Not only does MOVE give college students an added dimension to their academic education but it helps mold them into effective, thoughtful, sensitive, and active members of their community. MOVE is only in its infancy with a bright, promising future of promoting student involvement in the local community.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

Arnold Air Society

The Chaplain John Verrett squadron of the Arnold Air Society is an honorary service organization affiliated with Air Force ROTC. The squadron was established in 1952. Chaplain Verrett, a native Vermonter, attended St. Michael's, and entered the military in 1942. After attending Airborne School, Chaplain Verrett was sent to Belgium, where he was killed in action during the Battle of the Bulge. It was both his heritage and valor that inspired the squadron to assume his name.

Under the supervision of Col. Gerald S. Haun and leadership of AAS Major Wendy K. Fraser, this year's 28 cadets trained to be future Air Force Officers and to serve the community. Cadets are from both St. Michael's and UVM and are placed in high pressure situations which emphasize following orders as well as displaying military courtesy. They also participated in Blood Drives, canned Food Drives, the Crop Walk, POW/MIA Awareness week, and Dining-In (formal military dinner). For the third consecutive year the squadron has won the Outstanding Squadron Award.

Amnesty International

Apathy, what is it? Is there a growing indifference to what is going on in the world outside of St. Michael's campus? Is there any organization that will reach out, protest the wrongs committed, and fight for what is right? Yes, there is such a group on campus. Under the direction of Trish Turner, 30 St. Michael's students gathered together and address the problems of today's society. This group is named Amnesty International. It was founded in 1986 and is affiliated with World Organization.

Amnesty International is not a passive club. It is involved in fighting for the freedom of prisoners of conscience, protecting of human rights, and increasing the awareness of the public. Each month members write two letters that express their concerns on human rights issues. Amnesty International also sponsors lectures and films to promote awareness and educate the students of SMC. The goals are to educate people and give them a chance to contribute to the "betterment" of the world. For this group, it is better to light one candle than to curse the darkness.

LITURGICAL CHOIR

Liturgical Choir

Under the direction of John Penoyer, the twenty-five members of the Liturgical Choir faithfully lead us in song at Sunday masses. The choir is made up of vocalists as well as instrumentalists. The common instruments are drums, piano, guitar, flute, and harmonica.

At masses, John encourages all to join in and sing. The singing is fun but this group takes it seriously, and they work hard. If you arrive at mass early enough you may even catch the tail end of their rehearsal. The group devotes two hours before every mass to practice that week's music.

Once a year John brings the Liturgical Choir together for a meal. This year the dinner was held in the upper room of the chapel, and celebration ended in a sing along. The dinner is a nice way for all the members to intermix, and of course the evening would not be complete without John leading them in song.

Wind and Jazz

Wind and Jazz Ensemble is an excellent opportunity for talented instrumentalists to become involve with a college organization. The Ensemble has been directed by Dr. LeClair, more commonly know as Doc. However this past spring semester Doc was on sabbatical and direction of Wind and Jazz was taken over by Tom Walters and John Hanagan.

During the course of the school year the Wind and Jazz Ensemble held concerts on Homecoming Weekend, at a Fall mass, and on Parents' Weekend. The ensemble also participated in the festivities of the dedication of St. Edmunds Hall. One of biggest events over the years has been the spring tour. This year the Wind and Jazz Ensemble performed at Rice High School in VT; Greenwich, CT; and Sattle River City, NJ. The tour not only unifies the ensemble, but it also allows the SMC Wind and Jazz Ensemble to shine in the outside community.

WIND & JAZZ

FINE ARTS

Fine Arts

The goal of the SMC Fine Arts Club is to bring students together through their common interests in the arts and to promote this interest at SMC and local communities. The Club provides free entertainment while the members learn from professionals about the backstage workings of plays, art shows, and concerts. This year's club was led by Dani Duggan, President under the guidance of the club's advisor Donald Rathgeb.

During the past academic year, the members presented two main-stage productions as well as individual senior seminar productions. "Cinders" and "Pippin" were the mainstage productions. The former was presented in the Fall and the latter was a highlight of Parents' Weekend. The senior seminar productions were one act plays which were casted and directed by each senior. In the art gallery located on the first floor of the McCarthy Arts Center, many students and outside artists display their works.

SMC CHORALE

The SMC Chorale was originally founded as a glee club under the faculty supervision of William Tortolano and has since been under his direction. Chorale is a one credit a year course but most of all, it gives students the opportunity to sing challenging polyphonic music and to perform the songs in concerts.

Chorale is very dedicated group. The members practice the musical pieces faithfully on Mondays and Wednesdays. Each year the Chorale goes on tour. They have been to Notre Dame in France in the past, and this year they went on tour to "Bean Town," Boston, MA. Along with tours, the Chorale gives a number of concerts each year for the students, faculty, and staff. This year they performed at the dedication of the new building, homecoming, and the traditional Christmas concert.

CHORALE

OUTING CLUB

Outing Club

The St. Michael's Outing Club provides the SMC community with the opportunity to experience the outdoors and meet new people. The club gets people involved in hiking, climbing, camping, cross-country skiing, and canoeing.

For each outing trip, there is usually anywhere from 10 to 25 participants. Although all the trips are full of memories, probably the most memorable excursion was the trip to Acadia National Park. This trip brought the daring SMC students and their fearless leader, Fr. Mike Cronegue, to Maine in the Spring of 1987.

Not only does the outing club provide the opportunity for hikes and outdoor excursions but they also lease out equipment. Their office is located in the basement of Purtil Hall and it is there that one can rent cross-country ski equipment, canoeing apparatus, and/or camp gear.

The outing club tries to bring an awareness of the wilderness to the students as well as care and concern for our environment. In the future they hope to experience new and exciting places including the hopes of climbing Mt. Washington. The outing club is just like the rising sun and they will continue to enjoy the brilliance of nature.

The Rathskeller

Doors of the Rathskeller opened for the first time in 1979, and they have since remained open to SMC social life — kick back and have a beer. The Rathskeller, affectionately called the Rat, was the first student run campus pub in Vermont. This years student RAT managers were Traci Feeley, Tom Wendt, and Hector Provost.

Monday through thursday, students enjoyed drinking, conversation, and foosball. Added attractions at the Rat this year were local bands including Mr. Elephant, The Joneses, and Screaming Broccoli. The Rat has become an integral part of SMC nightlife.

STUDENT ASSOCIATION

Hey . . . What's your problem! The Student Association wants to know! Share your problems, and ideas about St. Michael's every Tuesday at 7pm in Science 108.

This is the spirit and motto which Brian Donahue and his administration have tried to communicate. Brian Donahue led the S.A. for two consecutive years, and worked hard toward improving the quality of leadership and the involvement of the students. These improvements included revisions of the structure of the S.A. Board and election time periods; and were first implemented during the 1987-1988 college year.

This promotion of leadership and communication has been basis of the S.A. since it was found in 1905. It was established to provide students with the opportunity to voice their opinions on prominent college issues and to help foster student-administration-faculty relations. This year's officers and representatives strived to provide programs for everyone on campus and to promote a strong, representative student voice.

Class Officers

Senior class trip, junior class birthday cakes sales, sophomore class balloon-grams, and freshman class pumpkin sales, these are just a few events which the class officers organize and run. Each fall the class President and Vice President are elected into office and then they select secretary, treasurer, and cabinet members through an interviewing process to support them during their term. These officers represent and lead the class throughout the next 365 days. They are involved in raising money to cover the cost of Senior Week and class events along the way.

Winter

Winter, a playground for those who like the snow. This year however, didn't see the same large amounts as the previous winter. Many skiers found that they lost money on the passes which they purchased. Others found numerous rocks on which to scratch their skis.

Sports continued through the bitter cold months of winter despite the snowfall amounts. Basketball and hockey continued with their seasons as did intramural sports. Sports offered the often much needed breaks from studying during the long winter months.

Even those who enjoy the snow were happy to see winter leave and spring arrive with the promise of a new life. The chance for a good winter would just have to wait another year.

Winter Weekend

The 1988 February winter madness known affectionately as Winter Weekend was blessed by Mother Nature with ample snow and cold. Activities sponsored included a Las Vegas Night, an Irish 'Folk' band, the spatial olympics, a bonfire, hockey game, toga party, and sleigh ride. Among unsponsored events included drinking, sledding, and drinking. Those who had the courage to venture outdoors were easily distinguishable by their frosty cheeks and noses. Those who stayed in, greeted those who ventured out with warm smiles and cold beers. Ahh, the tradition continues . . . . .

Residence Halls

Remember "I got screwed at room draw?" The old cliché still rang through for the housing situation for '87-88. Again there were too many top priority groups for the available housing. I guess rituals die hard.

Those fortunate enough to get into a townhouse or Hodson enjoyed the senior living which we all strive to achieve. Some apartments were clean, some a mess while other were customized with bars and the such.

Afterhours were commonplace in all the townhouses. There were also some incredible off-campus parties sponsored by those who got 'screwed'. There were a few Golf games held on campus resulting in a lot of bogies and other above par scores.

We will all fondly remember our senior housing situations as well as our roommates and classmates who shared in these experience.

How To Survive S.M.C.

Editors note: As we grow older and somewhat wiser, we reflect back at our innocent and sometimes guilty days of college. Because time may blur our images of days spent at Saint Michael's, I've decided to remind you of those days in a somewhat comical fashion. Due to space limitations, I'm only including a few of the many ideas that have been come up with. I hope that these spoofs touch some common experience shared by all. I'd like to thank Peter Houde and Chris Graham for their fine contributions to these two pages and the rest of the book as well. For the rest of you, a special toast and God Bless you in all your future endeavors. Yours truly, Buck Taylor.

Knighthood

Ahh, your introduction to Knighthood, what an experience. That first month of school freshman year, the things we did. For some the introduction was a subtle transition, for others, a new way of life. Things certainly changed over the years, some for better, some perhaps not. Remember that first keg party, checking the mail every day for D/F warnings, probation of one sort or another. Switching majors, living with a bunch of party animals and pranksters, calling home for money, seeing the Resident Director the next morning, going to hall programs on sexuality. Oh well, all of you reading this probably survived your introduction and the school was sure glad to have you aboard. So, welcome to camp St. Mikes; kick off the shoes and relax.

Weather: The weather in New England and Vermont in particular, is a difficult thing to predict. There must be a Murphy's Law somewhere which explains Vermont weather. One thing can be said however, if you don't like it now, wait a few, It'll change.

* Transportation: Today's St. Mikes campgoer has been accused of being apathetic. Additionally they all own BMW's, so who cares about transportation right? Wrong, there are only four BMW's on campus, the rest are SAAB's.

* Exams: A synonym for "lack-of-sleep-I've-gotta-read-all-night-ato-sis." This common disease can be cured with your support. Just send a $15,000 check and your son or daughter to the St. Mikey's Student Resource Center where he or she will be cured of this disease during one of their famous "Study Habits" sessions.

* Sleep: Why sleep at night when you can party and crank your stereo so loud that it causes ear damage. Besides, everyone can always nap during class. And if that doesn't do the trick, you can always take a power-nap between classes.

* Bars: The best part of Camp St. Mikes. A definite core requirement for all majors. Did you know that it was a bunch of crabby old legislators who outlawed "happy-hour" because they wanted everyone else to be just as miserable when drinking as themselves!

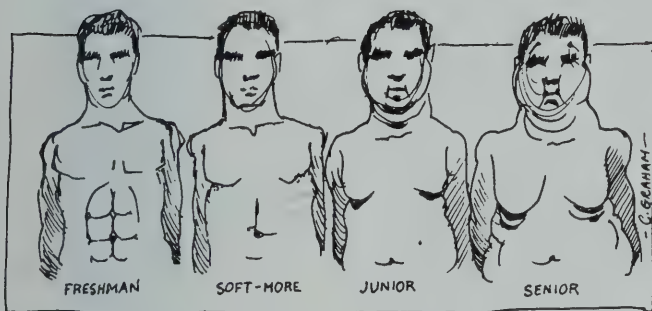

Wise and worldly, the professor is a warehouse of knowledge. Totally flawless and inflexible, students must be guided properly so that they can in turn guide the world. With poise the professor drops a piece of chalk to remind us of the laws of physics even in history class. But why do they make funny noises with their throats, or why do they dress so strangely? Who cares, as long as they don't call on me while I'm napping.

Singin' the SAGA blues, Soviet Attempt to Gag Americans and so on. Many cliches have arisen from the desire for edible and if possible, digestible food while at college. Unfortunately, the two don't usually go together. Many times during the course of a day, the various pizza vendors can be seen delivering their products to hunger crazed students. In actuality, most college students, who never seem to have any food in their apartments, are well fed. As a matter of fact (that is, this may or may not be factual), college is a time for growing both mentally and physically for most. How many haven't been guilty of gaining a few pounds at some time during their collegiate career? The freshman twenty almost always takes it toll, leading to the creation of the soft-more. By senior year many have a completely new wardrobe because they can't fit into any of their old clothes. I wonder if this is what is meant by a "well rounded education."

Lines: Every function has lines. Where can you go on campus and not find a line? You wait in line to eat and then soon after you wait in line to get a toilet. There are lines to get your books and you must wait in line only to be the first person to find that the class you wanted has been closed out. Why do we wait in these lines? Every year, twice a year, you can find complaints in the Defender about lines here there and everywhere. Maybe 60 minutes should come to Saint Michael's so that Andy Rooney could do a bit on lines. I can hear him now; "Those annoying lines. Did you ever wonder what lines were for? Some say they are a form of organization. They seem more like a nuisance to me. Just stop and think what would happen if expecting mothers had to wait in lines. The ancient Egyptians . . .", oh well, thanks Andy.

ATM: The Automatic Teller Machine. This is the machine banks have installed to help students mess up their bank accounts. How many people have also forgotten their PIN numbers over the summer only to get their cards munched when they returned? How many have had their cards munched just because the machine was experiencing PMS (periodic mechanical stress)? Sometimes you have to wonder if the machine can sense when you have been drinking. It always seems to me that it plays tricks on your mind when you've been drinking like, 'sorry, you have reached your limit for the day' and you have to wonder if its telling you not to drink anymore or wether it doesn't want to give you any money. Besides, how many people can drink $100 worth of beer in a night?

Now that you've lost all your money to the ATM, you're weary of the weather and you've gained weight, there is one more line you have to wait in. It's graduation time. Time to leave Camp St. Mikes, go out into the "real" world (as if college wasn't real enough) and live in poverty. So what if your high school friends are making $30,000 + a year, don't despair. Just remember you are one of the elite seventeen percent with a college education and can say it's the principle, not the money that counts. As Letterman would say, "Yea right!"

Spring

As is typical in Vermont, the spring weather was less than cooperative for the 1988 spring events. Although cold and rain threatened most of the day, P-Day was an enjoyable event for those able to attend. The K-Man band featuring SMC alum Rob Loyot put on an energetic warm up performance for Otis Day and the Knights, also known for their performance in the movie "Animal House."

Another spring event dominated by the weather was parents weekend. Everyone ate well Parents weekend as many packed into restaurants throughout the Champlain Valley. Those without reservations found it difficult to get a table anywhere. Some avoided the crowds and went to Stowe for dinner. In any event, it's always nice when mom and dad buy dinner.

The Fine Arts department put on another fine performance with their rendition of "Pipin." Certainly a worthwhile performance as anyone who had the pleasure of watching it will attest.

Finally, as the cold temperatures left and the nice weather moved in, out came the blankets and towels as many tried to get a jump on their summer tans.

DEDICATION

Most of us were probably influenced in coming to Saint Michael's College because of the efforts of Jacki Murphy. Her creative energies are a driving force behind the catalogues and brochures that first caught our eye about Saint Michael's. Those same creative energies have been responsible for yearbook after yearbook as she has been advisor for six years. Jacki sets a tone for all of us - nudges, cajoles and motivates us to do the best we can. Decisions are made by us with her support - not by her - she is an important role model for all those who know her - in her work as associate director of admissions, her involvement with professional organizations, as Zaf's partner and Zoe's mom and as our friend. Thanks Jacki - for getting us here in the first place and for helping us along through our years here.

Graduates

*The secret of life is enjoying the passing of time.
Any fool can do it.
There ain't nothing to it.
Nobody knows how we got to the top of the hill,
But since we're on our way down,
Might as well enjoy the ride.*

*The secret of love is in opening up your heart.
It's okay to feel afraid.
But don't let that stand in your way, cause anyone knows that love is the only road.
Since we're only here for a while,
might as well show some style.
Give us a smile.
Isn't it a lovely ride?
Sliding down, gliding down,
Try not to try too hard.
It's just a lovely ride.*

*The thing about time is that time isn't really real.
It's just your point of view,
How does it feel for you?
Einstein said you can never understand it all.
Planets are spinning through space,
A smile upon your face,
welcome to the human race.
Some kind of lovely ride,
I'll be sliding down,
I'll be gliding down.
Try not to try too hard.
It's just a lovely ride.*

ST. MICHAEL'S PLAY-HOUSE

IN MEMORIUM

*"Life to me is not a thing to waste words on,
provided that when I finish my race I have carried out the mission
the Lord Jesus gave me
-and that was to bear
witness to the Good News of God's grace."*

(Acts 20:24)

Rev. Jeremiah T. Purtill, S.S.E.

Died: January 23, 1988

FRIENDS ARE FOREVER - JOHN D. RUFO 1966-1986

Remembrance

When I think of yesterday,
And days of Long lost past,

I shed a tear of remembrance
knowing,
I'll never have them back.

But when I look ahead,
I begin to smile
And wipe my tears away.

I see your face inside my head,
And I long
for another day.

Knowing,
That you'll be there
with me side by side
I'll never again
Think of yesterday
And days
of Long lost past.

Advertising

We at the Hilltop, on behalf of the subscribers to this publication, wish to thank all the sponsors and advertisers herein.

With your support, we have been able to put together a fine book of memories which will continue to inspire us all through the years to come. We would also like to take the opportunity to thank our parents without whom, this would not have been possible.

Through continued support we can continue to make the Hilltop a publication worthy of Saint Michael's and the fond memories experienced by all those who make up its community.

God bless you all and thank you for your support.

SPECIAL THANKS

- * To Jacki Murphy; Advisor, as well as a good friend, who always had time to listen and help us out. Her input is very greatly appreciated by myself and the rest of the Hilltop staff.
- * Mr. Mark Saks; Jostens Rep who always was there to answer any of our questions, and help us whenever we needed it.
- * Mr. Ed Ralicki; from Yearbook Associates, who supplied us with everything we needed. Sincerely a true gentlemen.
- * Mr. Ed Markey; for the use of the many team photos provided.
- * The ladies in the SMC bookstore who always brought a smile to my face. I'll never forget my purchase order number again, Promise.
- * Thanks to all the photographers who helped out with photos.
- * Thanks to my roommates Peter, Bob and Dan, who put up with me. No one could have asked for better friends than the three of you.
- * Peter Houde; for his outstanding Art along with Chris Graham.
- * Mrs. Marie Halsted; who was always giving me advice and building confidence in myself. I will never forget you.
- * Jane Viens; for always letting me use her phone books.
- * Mr. Timothy Kasten; for helping me pass Finite Math.
- * Mr. Bill Anderson; for helping me pass Production (pending at time of this publication deadline).
- * Scott Colimore (photo editor); for putting up with me. Like I told you at the beginning of the year, we would either end up best of friends or hating each other. Take care my friend.
- * To my friends who have helped with the Hilltop; Lauren Hartnett, Christine DeWolfe and Kathy Gillis.
- * A special thanks goes out to the Saint Michael's community for the best years of my life.
- * Now that I'm nearing the end, I need to thank the people who are always there in the end. Mom, Dad, Kevin, Karen, Sean and my best friend Peter. I love you very much! Brian
- * To all my editors, thank you very much Cynthia, Carrie, Lisa, Peter, Scott, Dennis, Anne, M.K., Betsy, Marie, Buck and especially Mary. Without these people, their dedication and love, this book would not have been possible.

The time is 11:00 am, our deadline is less than 4 hours away before the Federal Express man shows up at our door to take these last pages to the printers. I've racked my brains all week long trying to come up with some meaningful closing statement to leave to you my friends at Saint Michael's. In a very short time we will all be going our own separate ways. As we do, we will always carry with us a little bit of Saint Michael's in our hearts to share with the rest of the world. I sincerely believe the world would be a much more beautiful place if we had more Michael-men and women. Take care and Godbless you my friends of Saint Michael's.
